DRIVE ON[®]

Drive On is a journey that celebrates the attributes of strength, focus and perseverance that have built the LPGA for more than 70 years.

#DRIVEON

On behalf of the Sally Committee and the entire membership of Oceanside Country Club, I want to personally welcome you to the 2024 South Atlantic Women's Amateur Championship, our 98th event. The Sally is the oldest woman's golf tournament played at the same location. This event has an outstanding field of players and champions who represent a significant piece of woman's golf history. Many of our players have become professional golfers on the tour and were the legends who have helped build woman's golf into what it is today. What a great history and this year we will add to our fantastic story.

We continue our very strong interest in the Sally with 200 players signing up for the 96 spots available when we closed our registration, and a significant number of players contacted us after registration closed. The quality of our players and the strong desire of women wanting to play in it supports our plan to work hard to make the Sally a premier woman's amateur golf tournament is working. We promise to continue to work hard to make the event one that continues to improve every year. The Sally Champions wall supports that the Sally has and continues to attract the best of woman's amateur, collegiate, and junior golf.

Many people have worked very hard to ensure this is a world class Championship event. I would like to thank our general manager David Main and his entire team, my Vice Chairs Debbie Friede, Joe Eggers, Nick Holmay and Mike Kulzer. The field, the facility and our members will all come together to create a world class experience for all of you from the time you arrive until we crown the 98th Sally Champion. We are happy to have you participate in our event as we approach our 100th anniversary. Finally, thank you to the many members who help to make this a great event and a special experience for all the players. I hope you enjoy our Club, our members, and the event we have planned for you. We wish you all the best of luck in the 98th Sally and a safe, happy, and healthy 2024.

A Message from THE OCEANSIDE COUNTRY CLUB

THE PRESIDENT

To Participants in the 98th SALLY Championship,

On behalf of all of us at Oceanside Country Club – members, staff, and the Board of Directors – welcome to the 2024 South Atlantic Ladies Amateur Championship. We are proud to have hosted The SALLY Tournament since 1926, making it the country's longest-running golf event continuously played at the same location. Through the decades, this tournament has attracted elite amateur players from across the United States and the globe!

The SALLY is one of the highlights on the OCC Calendar of Events. Head Golf Professional Jason Hrynkiw and his team pride themselves on hosting a first-class tournament. Our recently renovated course will be in peak condition under the care of Course Superintendent John Clifton and his staff. Oceanside General Manager David Main and the entire staff have been diligently working to provide an excellent and fun-filled event. At the heart of the tournament is our SALLY committee, led by Chuck Grant, as well as a team of volunteers eager to make your experience memorable.

You should feel proud to be participating in this storied and prominent tournament. From among this field, one of you will achieve the title of a champion of The SALLY; best of luck to you all!

Sincerely,

Jim Weite

President, Oceanside Country Club

P.S. A special CONGRATULATIONS and WELCOME to Reggie Parker who is playing in the Sally for the 50th consecutive year. I fondly remember playing with her in the Member/Sally some years back!

THE GENERAL MANAGER

Dear SALLY Contestants,

Our little local golf event continues to bring huge demand for women's amateur golf. To those fortunate ladies playing in the 2024 Sally, I am happy to welcome you to your new favorite golf tournament!

And to our returning participants, welcome back! Once again it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to Oceanside Country Club and the 98th annual South Atlantic Ladies' Amateur Championship. With extraordinary demand this year we had over 200 entries and only 96 spots available. This number continues to show the high demand for the event and its historic impact on golf with a long list of notable past champions. I remain honored to be a part of this tremendous tradition. As the list of past champions grows, it is proof that the "Sally" attracts the best of women's amateur and collegiate golf, and this year is no different. Please take a moment to visit our Sally Wall to view the history and amazing players who have graced this event.

Our history of winners includes incredible icons like Patty Berg and Babe Zaharias to Vicki Goetz, Christie Kerr, and Grace Park to contemporary LPGA stars like Jessica Korda, Jaye Marie Green, Brooke Henderson, and Amanda Doherty. This amazing list and many more have been the pedigree of incredible talent that has preceded you. As we approach our 100th anniversary of our event, we want to recognize all the incredible women over the years that make women's golf what it is today.

Our membership at Oceanside makes this a complete event with participation in the daily activities and their enthusiasm throughout the week. I am certain we will once again see a championship performance from the players, our membership, and the Oceanside Team.

I would like to extend special thanks to our Chairman, Chuck Grant and his Vice-Chairs, Debbie Friede, Joe Eggers, Nick Holmay and Mike Kulzer, as well as the many volunteers for taking on the overwhelming tasks associated in organizing this wonderful tournament.

I sincerely hope you enjoy our warm hospitality during the chilly days of the tournament. Good luck in the 98th annual "Sally".

Warm Regards,

David Main, CCM, CCE

Dear SALLY Participants:

On behalf of the City of Ormond Beach, I welcome each of you to our beautiful city and encourage you to enjoy all the wonderful amenities it offers.

This year marks the 98th anniversary of the South Atlantic Ladies Amateur Golf Tournament (SALLY), and the residents of Ormond Beach are excited that you will be playing at Oceanside Country Club and are eager to watch.

The City is honored to host SALLY in 2024 featuring outstanding players who will continue to contribute to the great success of this annual tournament.

Congratulations to all of you for your dedication to your sport. With your spirit and determination, you serve as great role models for amateur athletes. All of you are winners, and we consider Ormond Beach the big winner to be able to again host such an exceptional event.

We are privileged to have SALLY in our city, and on behalf of the City of Ormond Beach, I wish you all much success.

Sincerely,

THE HISTORICAL SIDE OF SALLY

The Roaring Twenties to the new millennium!

For more than two generations a never-ending parade of women golfers has come to the Oceanside Country Club and teed it up in the SALLY. It's a time for recalling rivalries and renewing friendships at an outstanding sporting event and social highlight.

From modest beginnings as a tourist attraction, the SALLY has grown to national, even international prominence. Competitors from numerous states coast-to-coast, and invariably a strong group from the British Isles, Ireland and the European continent share the spotlight.

How the South Atlantic Women's Amateur Golf Championship came to be known informally as the SALLY is shrouded in mystery. But the name endured for decades. Today, in golf's richest era, the Ormond Beach classic overlooking the Atlantic remains one of the nation's oldest tournaments, surely the oldest at a continuous site. It has been played annually in every kind of weather imaginable since 1926 except for the World War II years, 1943-1945, and also 1946. Contested first at match play, the format shifted to stroke (medal) play in 1974.

Seeds of the SALLY were planted when Henry M. Flagler organized the Florida East Coast Railroad in 1886. This railroad pioneer (1830-1913) extended the railroad to Miami, later across water and islands to Key West. As the railroad flourished Flagler built resort hotels along the railroad's route. He bought the Hotel Ormond, a structure started by John Anderson and J.D. Price. Flagler also built a railroad bridge across the Halifax River so famous guests could be deposited on the hotel doorstep. One such guest was John D. Rockefeller, the oil tycoon and philanthropist. Eventually Rockefeller bought the Huntington House across Granada from the Hotel Ormond. He named it the Casements. It was his winter home until his death in 1937 at age 97.

In 1911 the Hotel Ormond Golf and Country Club was built. It featured a spacious clubhouse with wide verandas on the oceanfront. Vacationers were provided every conceivable luxury. The winter retreat business grew rapidly. Hotel owners sponsored women's amateur golf tournaments, an effective stimulant to arouse and heighten interest among guests. Through Rockefeller's influence the Hotel Ormond tourney followed.

In the early days a public relations agency promoted and conducted the hotel tournaments which not only attracted visitors but brought untold publicity to the areas involved. By 1948 the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce backed the newly-formed Ormond Beach Golf Association which began running the South Atlantic championship. Soon a new golf clubhouse replaced the old one.

By 1951 the Hotel Ormond was sold. At the same time, Merrill Ellinor purchased the 185-acre golf course and clubhouse. A Floridian, Ellinor developed Ellinor Village which bears his name. He renamed the golf course the Ellinor Village Country Club. He enhanced the layout and continued the SALLY as a major winter attraction. Late in 1962 Ellinor sold the golf property to the Oceanside Country Club. This organization, with its vital volunteers, club members and club staff, has operated the SALLY for nearly four decades. Now the SALLY, the Harder Hall Invitational (Sebring), the Ione Jones/Doherty Cup (Fort Lauderdale) and the International Four-Ball (Hollywood, FL) comprise the well-known Florida Orange Blossom Circuit.

The first SALLY champion was Dorothy Klotz, a tall, 22-year-old from Chicago who didn't start golf until her second high school year. Her greatest moment came in the semifinals when she beat Glenna Collett (later Mrs. Vare), the reigning U.S. Women's Amateur champion. Klotz successfully defended in 1927, then as Mrs. H. Austin Pardue.

Mary Kendall Browne, a renowned tennis champion, and Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Scotland, an American and British golf titleholder, came to the South Atlantic. Chicago's Virginia Van Wie won her fourth SALLY in 1934. She was several times a U.S. Amateur champion.

In the late thirties Patty Berg, a chubby, freckle-faced redhead from Minnesota won back-to-back honors. One of golf's first ambassadors of good will, she turned professional in 1940. Berg was the first president of the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA), the first U.S. Women's Open champion in 1946 and won more than 80 pro and amateur tournaments.

Betty Hicks, Jane Cothran and Georgia Tainter, the Fargo, ND flash, were other pre-war winners. After a wartime hiatus, the 1947 SALLY was won by Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias. An aggressive competitive fire with brash showmanship and a wonderful sense of humor, the famed Babe never doubted she could beat anybody. She gained acclaim in the 1932 Olympics and won U.S. Opens by wide margins. She died of cancer in 1956 at 42.

Barbara Romack, a 19-year-old golf glamour girl from California won consecutive titles in the early 1950's. Pat Lesser and Ann Quast continued the West Coast dominance for the next few years. Lesser was so good she played on the men's golf team at Seattle University. Quast won the U.S. Amateur several years. Champions Barbara McIntire of Ohio, Doris Phillips of Illinois and tiny Clifford Ann Creed of Louisiana got the 1960's going. The 1963 SALLY started a seven-year run by Phyllis "Tish" Preuss in which she won five titles. The petite blonde from Pompano Beach was a superb putter and wedge wizard. She won all four events on the Florida winter trail. Her string was interrupted by Barbara Fay White, the daughter of a Louisiana golf professional and Sandra Post, a flaxen-haired Canadian junior champ. Post was the first non-American winner and soon after became a leading professional.

Lancy Smith, from the Buffalo, NY suburb of Snyder, blew into prominence in 1966 at the age of 18 when she won the Empire State Amateur. She won four SALLY titles in the 1970's and again in 1985. In 1989 at the age of 41 she captured her sixth title, a record. She is the only SALLY champion to win both match and stroke play honors.

Carol Semple, an outstanding career amateur, gained signal honors at home and abroad, winning the 1973 U.S. Amateur and the British Amateur the following year. By winning the latter she joined a handful of Americans who won that crown. Three of them, Babe Zaharias, Barbara McIntire and Ann (Quast) Welts were SALLY champions. Many times Pennsylvania Amateur champion, Carol (Semple) Thompson won other U.S. and regional tournaments. She has been a Curtis Cup team member a record number of times. Carol's mother, Phyllis, competed in the SALLY until the 1970's. In 1971 she gave her daughter a quarterfinal lesson, the only such match in SALLY history.

The initial stroke play championship in 1974 went to Debbie Massey, a 23-year-old frosty blonde from Pennsylvania. Cynthia "Cindy" Hill was a double champion. Pat (Roy) Meyers outdistanced the 1976 field. The weather was insufferable but the Ormond Beach golfer hung on and triumphed by five. She later turned professional.

Lisa Stanley was a 17-year-old high school senior from Melbourne, FL when she won in 1982.

The SALLY - 1936

Ireland's Claire Hourihane survived a stiff Atlantic wind and low temperatures to become the first foreign winner in 1983. Wild winds were no problem for Claire Waite of Marlborough, England, a foreign winner a second straight year.

The winner of the 1984 Championship "B" Flight was Alison Nicholas of Yorkshire, England. Thirteen years later she won the U.S. Open by a stroke over Nancy Lopez. Fans also recall Nancy Hager, Debbie Raso, Sherrie Ann Keblish, Pat Rizzo, Leslie Shannon, Cindy Scholefield and Caroline Keggi as champions in the seventies and eighties.

As the nineties unfolded, the gifted amateur in general and the college player in particular, took center stage. Some of the champions of that time sought fame and fortune on the professional tour: Katie Peterson, Vicki Goetze, Debbi Koyama, Cristie Kerr, Grace Park, Kellee Booth and Beth Bauer, the 2000 winner who set a new scoring record of 285. Marla Jemsek-Weeks, Vicki Thomas and Virginia Derby Grimes stayed on the amateur circuit.

Presentation to Virginia Van Wie
by Ormond Hotel Manager

Of special note is Ceil Maclaren of Savannah, GA, now in her seventies. She won 14 senior medalist trophies since the start of that event in 1978. But one of the saddest stories of the SALLY is that of Marge Burns of Greensboro, NC. Marge entered the SALLY in 1950 and called it quits 20 years later. She was four times a finalist, nine times a semi-finalist, three times a medalist but never a champion.

All the golfing thrills over the years by the champions, near-champions and the scores of others with varying talents who gave it their best shot left the Ormond Beach and Daytona Beach areas with a rich and lasting legacy.

The "Sally" owes a great debt of gratitude to James Kelley for his tireless efforts to document the history of this event. In his youth, he caddied for the legendary
Patty Berg—a two-time "Sally" winner and founding member of the LPGA.

Thank you, James Kelley, for sharing your time and talents.
